

RECOVERY ROUND-UP

This section is prepared with the co-operation of the Secretary, Australian Bird and Bat Banding Schemes, Australian National Parks and Wildlife Service. The recoveries are only a selection of the thousands received each year; they are not a complete list and should not be analysed in full or part without prior consent of the banders concerned. Longevity and distance records refer to the ABBBS unless otherwise stated. The distance is the shortest distance in kilometres along the direct line joining the place of banding and recovery; the compass direction refers to the same direct line. (There is no implication regarding the distance flown or the route followed by the bird). Where available ABBBS age codes have been included in the banding data.

Recovery or longevity items may be submitted directly to me whereupon their merits for inclusion will be considered.

Hon. Editor.

OBITUARY

R. K. 'Sam' Carruthers died suddenly at Buderim in early March 1991, aged 69 years. A mining engineer by profession, he was an enthusiastic bird watcher and bander for many years. He applied to his hobby that attention to detail his job demanded. His birding notes were meticulous. If he saw in any publication a statement which deviated from the facts as he knew them, he was quick to draw the author's attention to the error of his ways. The most interesting part of his birding life was in north-west Queensland when he lived in Mount Isa in the 50s and 60s. At that time the large artificial lakes were being created with a fascinating impact on the birdlife. He was the leading spirit of a small but enthusiastic group of bird watchers and banders who observed and recorded this phenomenon. Later his career took him to Sydney where his birding was more limited but his interest was rekindled on his retirement to the Sunshine Coast, where he carefully recorded the details of birds in his garden until the time of his death.

A most friendly and sociable man with a great knowledge of birds as well as an endless fund of stories about the colourful characters of Queensland's North-West; a day with Sam and his wife Joy was always a delight. A moonlit west Queensland night, a camp-fire and a beer with Sam after a day's birding was one of life's great pleasures for those of us fortunate enough to experience it. He will be affectionately remembered and sadly missed. He is survived by his wife Joy and his three sons to whom we extend our sympathy.
