

An Estimation of the Population Density of Shearwaters Breeding on Broughton Island, New South Wales

F. W. C. VAN GESSEL

The density of breeding burrows in shearwater colonies on Broughton Island is assessed. The field census methods used are described and estimates of burrow densities are given.