

A Hybrid Wader?

The photographs which appeared with the article "A Hybrid Wader?" in Volume 5, number 5, page 114, were those of a Sharp-tailed Sandpiper Calidris acuminata and not those of the "hybrid". The accompanying photographs show the comparison between a Sharp-tailed Sandpiper and the "hybrid".

Hon. Editor.

• Dorsal view of "hybrid" (above) and Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (below). Note shape of the feathers.

• Head and bill comparison of "hybrid" (upper) and Sharp-tailed Sandpiper (lower).

Photos: W. G. Rohan-Jones